time; but at present, they comprise those ferers. that are controlled by men holding office, or who are under other little obligations to Sidney. One paper, that claims to be the newspaper, par excellance, of Northern Kansas, says nothing whatever of the great steal, involving the reputations of scores of its readers, but disposes of the whole subject, by saying it don't like the appearance of Supervisor Mari! Another paper, whose chief editor has long been connected with the Revenue department, and whose forte is the Revenue, has not a whimper on the subject of the steal, but copies a couple of puffs of Supervisor McDonald, who was sent here with the ten copies of the Independent on white expectation that he would shut off the in- satin, for the crowned heads of Europe. vestigation of the matter. Another paper out West, whose editor is an officeholder, and lays claim to a large amount of extra-quality of honesty, briefly refers to the investigation and exposure as an attack upon Sidney Clarke. So it goes, all over the State.

We hear it boldly said, that Clarke has money in this and that County, and is going to make a heavy fight. What do the people say to that? This $160, 000, stolen from them, is being distribnted around among a few active polititicians, who have engaged to control the voice of the people. The people are to Are they going to permit it?
